Disgust over vandalised defibrillator

HANNAH MIRSKY

Have your say at cambridge-news.co.uk/haverhill

STAFF at a rugby club were left "gobsmacked" after a defibrillator was vandalised.

The public-access defibrillator was installed by the Haverhill Community First Responders and has been used to help save lives, but some time on Friday night or Saturday morning, it was wrenched from the wall it was attached to.

The incident took place between 11pm on Friday, August 28 and 1pm on Saturday, at Haverhill Rugby Club in School Lane.

Excessive force was used to wrench the defibrillator from the wall, although it was left attached by electric wires.

Jane Marper, clubhouse manager at the rugby club, said: "When we opened up on Saturday lunchtime for a wedding party, we were just getting stuff ready, and somebody noticed that it was at an angle, and we noticed that it had been pulled off the wall.

"We were obviously pretty cross and gobsmacked that somebody would vandalise a defibrillator."

The staff at the club contacted the First Responders to tell them what had happened.

The life-saving device, worth £2,500, was installed in May after a fundraising effort from the First Responders.

They posted on their Facebook page after the incident: "Due to the irresponsibility of the person or people that did this, it is now out of order and potentially could result in someone losing their lives."

The First Responders are a team of local volunteers who are trained to deal with life-threatening situations. The Haverhill branch currently has 15 volunteers.

Defibrillators can help keep someone alive in the event of a heart attack, until medical experts arrive. This one had already been used since its installation in May.

The defibrillator has now been re-attached to the wall and is in working order.

Police have been informed about the vandalism.

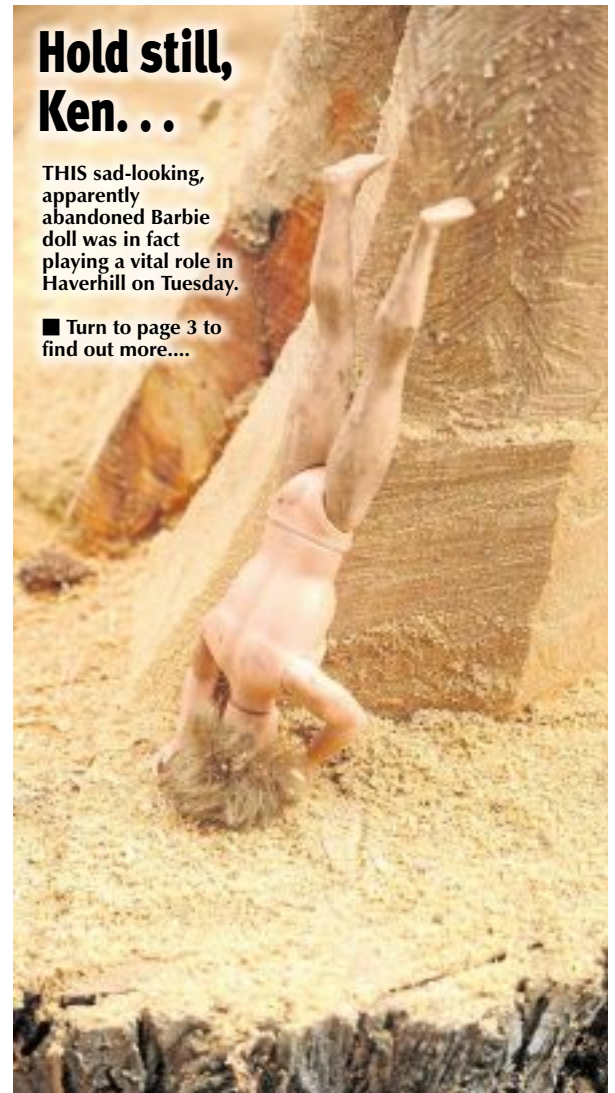

If you saw or heard anything suspicious, call Haverhill Police on 101 quoting crime reference number HH/15/2210.

Alternatively, call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Hold still, Ken...

THIS sad-looking, apparently abandoned Barbie doll was in fact playing a vital role in Haverhill on Tuesday.

FLOODING

UNDER WATER: Flooding has forced the start of term to be delayed at Samuel Ward Academy in Haverhill and has caused tens of thousands of pounds worth of damage

School hit by flooding

TENS of thousands of pounds worth of damage have been caused to a secondary school in Haverhill after torrential rain caused flooding.

Samuel Ward Academy in Chalkstone Way has been forced to delay its start-of-term date to Monday to have time to clear up the damage.

Pupils were due back tomorrow after the summer break.

The school flooded after gravel blocked its down drains during heavy rain last Wednesday.

Water backed up onto the roof and leaked into the building, causing water up to three inches deep to flood nine classrooms.

The school has called in contractors ISS Facilities to remove the water and use industrial driers to make the classrooms usable again. This process looks set to take over a week.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

School principal Andy Prestoe said: "Although you can dry it out it just takes time because it's a large area. They have been here since last Thursday and we have had the drains sorted, so it should be fine by Monday."

"I have to say the staff have taken it well, and the parents I have spoken to are very understanding. The worst thing for us would be not to inform parents and have students turn up on Friday and not be able to use the classrooms. Hopefully the impact on the students will be minimised."

Parents were informed of the postponed start of term yesterday, as the school were waiting to see if the Friday closure would be necessary.

The school does not yet have a final figure for how much the damage will have cost in total, but Mr Prestoe says it is likely to be in the tens of thousands.

He went on: "It was predominantly design and technology classrooms affected: a textiles classroom, a food technology classroom, and two IT rooms, which is why we were really relieved that the actual technology in the rooms is OK."

Students' work has not been damaged.

Carpets will have to be removed and replaced, and kickboards on the bottom of the furniture have also been damaged.

The school will spend the first few weeks of term without carpets, but otherwise will function as normal from September 7.

CHARITY

Still time to sign up for charity walk

THERE's just a week left to sign up for a picturesque charity walk through seven colleges in Cambridge.

The Bridge the Gap walk on September 13 will be raising money for the Arthur Rank Hospice and Press Relief, the community fund of the Cambridge News.

Children go free on the walk, and there is a modified route for walkers with mobility issues.

The walk's programme has been made into an online magazine this year, which can be viewed on the website bridgethegapwalk.org.uk.

You can also register for the walk on the website, until 1pm on Friday, September 11. Registration costs £18, which goes directly to the charity. On the day, you can register from 9am to 10am for a cost of £20.

ART

A piece of art, from the stump of a dead tree

WORK OF ART: Chainsaw sculptor Ben Loughrill working on his latest project outside Haverhill Leisure centre – a diver in an Elm tree stump.

Pictures: Keith Jones

A DEAD elm tree in Haverhill town centre is being transformed into a 10ft sculpture of a diver.

The tree, part of a row that stands outside Haverhill's Abbeycroft Leisure Centre, recently died of Dutch elm disease. It was due to be felled until the plan was hatched to turn it into a public work of art.

The sculpture has been largely funded with money from town, borough and county councillor Tony Brown's locality budget.

Cllr Brown said: "Originally the elm was part of a lovely row of elm trees that were very popular in the town. It was always a special place in Haverhill, and it was really one of the last rows of elm trees in the country. It was quite a shock when they actually started dying."

He said that the late Cllr Gordon Cox had suggested putting a statue in the area, but after his death, this never took place.

Cllr Brown went on: "Earlier this year I was doing an event at the leisure centre, and I came out and I just thought it's such a shame, so

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

I contacted the borough and used some of my money."

A spokesperson for St Edmundsbury Borough Council said: "Rather than simply pay for the felling and removal of the tree we have taken the decision with this particular specimen to utilise the standing timber and have employed the services of a local wood carver to create a sculpture relevant to the neighbouring leisure centre, a figure diving."

Tree sculptor Ben Loughrill, who is originally from Steeple Bumpstead, has been hired – at a cost of £2,100 – to create the artwork.

He has previously worked on projects including the wolf sculpture which sits on a roundabout in Bury St Edmunds.

Mr Loughrill is working on the sculpture this week, using a chainsaw to carve the wood.

He works mostly from his imagination, but uses prompts to help him, including pictures – and a Barbie doll. He said: "I came up with a diver because there's a sports centre there. I'm starting at the feet and working my way down."

Mr Loughrill, who has been working as a wood sculptor for 15 years, hopes that it will be finished by early next week. The sculpture will be stained with a clear protective coat and should last at least 10 years.

Cllr Brown said: "I am really looking forward to it making a nice feature on Jubilee Square."

"It will be a one off. I think it's a fitting tribute to the tree that was there."

Cllr Brown said: "I'm a great fan of public art. It invites comment and discussion and every bit of public art makes the town a bit different."

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Is this a good idea? Would you like to see more public art in Haverhill?

Council to take control of old Co-op building

THE borough council is preparing to take control of the old Co-Op building in Jubilee Walk.

St Edmundsbury Borough Council have agreed terms with The Co-Op which mean that they will soon control the site and it will be ready for development.

The building, unoccupied since 2011, is a key redevelopment site in ONE Haverhill's town centre masterplan. Plans for it include creating a new square called "Jubilee Place" and a bus interchange in what is now the Jubilee Walk car park.

The council are also planning to agree terms with a new occupier – thought to be discount store Poundstretcher – for a short term lease on the building until the development plans can be implemented.

Appeal after sex assault

POLICE are looking to trace this man in connection with an alleged assault in Haverhill.

A CCTV image has been released by Suffolk police who are appealing for information.

The alleged incident took place at around 3pm on Wednesday, August 26, at a retail store in Park Road, where a young woman was sexually assaulted by a man who committed an obscene act.

Officers would like to speak to the man pictured in the CCTV image about this incident.

He is described as white, around 5ft 11in and wearing a green jacket.

Anyone who believes they may know who this man is, or who has any information about the incident, is asked to contact PC Mark Ellis at Haverhill Police Station on 101 quoting reference HH/15/2169.

CAMPAIGN

Residents fight plans to build on garage sites

A PETITION calling for a housing association to abandon a development has gained nearly 1,000 signatures.

The petition was started by a new organisation known as the Garage Action Group, (GAG) which opposes plans by Havebury Housing to build homes on a site currently occupied by residents' garages.

The plans to build four affordable homes on the site in Haverhill's Nayland Road were approved on appeal in June after being rejected by St Edmundsbury Borough Council in July, 2014.

The proposals involve ripping out the garages that currently stand on the quiet residential street and replacing them with four new homes.

GAG is a mixture of councillors and residents. As well as creating a petition, they have written to West Suffolk MP Matthew Hancock and have organised a meeting between Havebury CEO Karen Mayhew and local councillors on September 21.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

Residents are considering picketing the meeting to raise awareness of the issue, and are ready to take direct action if they are told work is starting.

Dave Skuce, who lives on the street, said: "The thing that's annoying me and that I'm fighting against is the bully boy tactics. It was turned down by the council but they've just stuck their fingers in their ears and thrown a lot of money at it. They're supposed to be a charity. It's already forced one couple to put their home up for sale."

Another member of the action group is the former mayor of Haverhill, Roger Andre.

He said: "While Havebury do have consent for the Nayland Road site they should have proper regard for local residents and local councillors who consider the proposals a threat to their local amenity with the attendant risks of overcrowding, loss of parking and open spaces and disrupting long established communities."

"Havebury are putting financial considerations above their commitment to our community."

GAG's next meeting will take place on Thursday, September 17, at the Leiston Centre in Leiston Road, at 7pm.

Fireworks as town salutes Queen's reign

QUEEN Elizabeth II will become Britain's longest-reigning monarch this month – and Haverhill is saluting her.

Next Wednesday, September 9, The Queen's 63-year reign will be longer than that of Queen Victoria.

Although it is not an event officially celebrated by Buckingham Palace, Haverhill Town Council have organised a firework display at the New Croft football ground.

Town clerk Colin Poole said: "Our councillors wanted to mark something that's only going to happen once in our lifetime.

"Prince Charles isn't going to live to 130, and William's already 33, so Prince George is possibly the next one.

"For a lot of people it won't happen again in our lifetime or our children's lifetime. Clearly it's a huge public service career the queen has had."

HANNAH MIRSKY
 @HannahMirskyCN

The event will take place on September 9 at 8pm. The firework show is expected to last around three minutes, and the bar at the New Croft will be open. All are welcome to go along.

A sunset parade had been organised in Bury St Edmunds before the Haverhill fireworks were arranged. Town, borough and county councillor John Burns said: "It was asked quite a few times: 'Why aren't we doing something in Haverhill?'"

The New Croft was chosen as the location for the display as it is on the Chalkstone Hills, and so one of the highest places in the town.

Mr Poole said: "If people can't get to the New Croft we have chosen it because the fireworks would be visible all over the town."

Cllr Burns said: "Hopefully people will see all round Haverhill. We're hoping the weather stays decent."

Mr Poole added: "It will be our tribute to the service the queen has done for the nation. We hope it will be a big crowd all enjoying seeing the fireworks."

When Elizabeth came to the throne in 1952, Haverhill had a population of a little over 4,000.

Barry Young, Secretary of the Haverhill Local History Group said: "In the fifties Haverhill was really a medium sized market town, but we did have a passenger railway station.

"The industrial estate and main housing estates weren't built then. In 1951 the Haverhill Urban Council was considering taking part in a scheme to become a London overspill town."

The overspill estates were built in the 1960s and 70s, and the town's population has increased five-fold during Elizabeth's reign.

Charity should start at home

WE were visited this week by that ubiquitous insect, the charity mugger.

Clothed in the camouflage of a 'charity' worker, the pest knocked upon our door and claimed to be working on behalf of Oxfam.

The intent was, of course, to lead me to believe that he was a 'charity worker' on behalf of a large and respected organisation.

If I was to assume he was a volunteer then so much the better.

Ignoring the fact that Oxfam is neither deserving of my respect or my money a swift question revealed that he was, in fact, neither charitable nor a volunteer.

May I suggest that your readers turn all such pond life away from your door empty-handed.

A stinging rebuke or two may be in order to help them on their way. May I also recommend that your charitable instincts are turned towards our excellent local charities, who do not pay their CEOs hundreds of thousands, who do not send workers into the field in huge cars and locate them in the most expensive hotels, who do not, in fact, make the problems worse.

Our local charities do fine work, through many volunteers, and you can, in fact, usually see where the money goes, and most of it goes where it should.

We have enough to do in our area. When everything is perfect here then by all means, turn your attention elsewhere.

Drain is flooding – but they told me to wait 6 months for repairs

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

A HAVERHILL man whose home was in danger of being flooded said he was told by Havebury Housing he would have to wait six months to have repairs carried out to the drains.

John McDonagh, who lives in Landseer Court, says that his garden flooded so badly last Wednesday that he was unable to get out of his back door.

He said at the time: "Everything's flooding outside. If I get any more rain I'm going to be in serious trouble."

And the flooding was not just the result of one freak spell of heavy rain. Mr McDonagh, who is 69, said it was an ongoing problem.

He said that three weeks ago when there was a downpour, he bailed out 16 barrel loads and 22 bucketfuls of water from his garden. He added: "If I hadn't done that it would have come in the back door."

His next-door neighbour Debbie Allard was also affected by the poor drainage, with the water not draining from her back garden even after several days.

The 55-year-old support worker and grandmother says it has affected her family. She said: "It's my grandchildren really. They love being out in the garden. They want to be out there on their bikes.

"We are at the end, and it soaks down our way. We just put up with it until now."

She says the problem has been getting worse over the years she has lived in the house.

Mr McDonagh, a retired lorry

FLOODING: Neighbours John McDonagh and Debbie Allard with Debbie's grandchildren Sophia, 3, and Jasper, 2, on their flooded patio.

and someone was sent round to inspect the problem.

Mr McDonagh says he was then told he would have to be put on a six-month waiting list before the necessary work could be done on the drain.

However, this week Havebury said they now understand the urgency of the situation, and have speeded up the process.

Paul Edwards, director of resources and company secretary, said on Thursday: "We are very sorry to hear of the flooding that Mr McDonagh has experienced in his garden due to yesterday's torrential downpour."

"As soon as we were informed of the situation, we immediately passed the details on to our contractors to arrange a booking with Mr McDonagh."

"We confirmed that the repair required would normally take a number of months to rectify, however we do appreciate the urgency of this situation and have therefore arranged for the work to be completed within the next two weeks."

Mr McDonagh said: "It's good as long as they do it right."

26 friends take on memorial walk

A HAVERHILL woman is taking on an 11-mile walk in memory of her late husband – alongside 25 other women. Elaine McManus and a group of her friends and family will be taking part in the St Nicholas Hospice Care Girls Night Out on September 12 in Bury St Edmunds.

Her husband Paul McManus passed away from cancer earlier this summer.

Although Elaine cared for Paul herself, she says the hospice was a great help: "They gave us both lots of support, just moral support, telling us what to do and where to go for help."

Around 17 of the 26 walkers gathered for a practice walk last Monday, August 24.

They tried on the matching T-shirts they've had made and had pictures taken by photographer David Doughty.

SLIMMING

Couple lose 5 stone together

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

A MAN who gained weight after being diagnosed with a lung condition has lost three stone – and his wife has lost two and a half.

Keith Grant, of Haverhill's Dalham Place, spent years in poor health and struggling to complete basic tasks such as tying shoelaces after being diagnosed with a disease that left him short of breath.

Keith, 57, said: "About 13 years ago I gave up smoking as I was having trouble walking the one mile distance to work.

"Shortly afterwards I was diagnosed with COPD (chronic obstructive pulmonary disease) and over the years used the condition as the reason I couldn't exercise and I gradually gained weight.

"Then last year I was having some health issues – I was diagnosed with water retention which was causing my legs to swell up and also with sleep apnoea, both of which are caused by being overweight and unfit.

"At that point, I weighed over 15 stone."

Keith and his wife Diane

SUPER SLIMMER: Diane Grant lost two and a half stone with a Live Well Suffolk scheme joined a 12-week free weight loss course at Abbeycroft Leisure centre earlier this year.

The course was run by Live Well Suffolk, a county-wide healthy lifestyle service.

During the course, the couple lost a whopping five and a half stone between them.

Keith emerged three stone lighter, while Diane lost two and a half stone.

Diane, 53, said: "We loved the course and its practical approach to losing weight, as well as the free use of the facilities at the leisure centre throughout the duration of the course."

Keith is now an active member of the Haverhill Running Club, and runs five miles two to three times a week, while Diane goes to the gym three to four times a week.

Keith said: "My health has improved drastically and I have a greater interest in cooking healthier food.

"I am a lot more flexible now and can tie my shoe laces up easier and getting in and out of the bath is much easier.

"I feel invigorated and I'm enjoying life again rather than just plodding through it."

Terry Dowding is Live Well Suffolk's adult weight management practitioner in Haverhill.

He said: "Diane and Keith have achieved a fantastic weight loss and are continuing to enjoy the benefits of a healthier lifestyle."

The couple are just two of 34 Haverhill residents who have lost an amazing 19 stone between them through attending the courses.

The next 12-week course starts of September 23. Call Terry on 07535 232901 to book.

CHARITY

SCALING NEW HEIGHTS: Marty Singh, Darryl Ashford-Smith and Sam Ashford-Smith on top of the Breithorn

Reaching new heights

A FIRE officer has climbed a 4,000m mountain to raise money for a Haverhill charity.

Darryl Ashford-Smith, whose wife Lesley Ashford-Smith works for REACH community projects, scaled the Breithorn in the Swiss Alps a fortnight ago.

Darryl, 49, is an experienced mountain climber, but he took with him his nephew Sam Ashford-Smith and his stepson Marty Singh, neither of whom had ever done a climb like this before.

Darryl, who lives in Great Yeldham, said: "It was quite hard going and very different from anything either of them had done before."

The snow-capped peak is four times higher than the tallest mountains in Britain – but intrepid Darryl said he did no special training for the hike, just running and staying generally in shape.

Darryl said: "No matter how much training you do, it's always going to be hard, because of the altitude. We were lucky to get the weather: if the conditions were not favourable we couldn't have done it."

"We had a very narrow weather

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

window of only a couple of days. We did a day or two beforehand practising crevasse rescue techniques."

The climbers have raised over £500 for REACH, which was their target, but they are hoping to receive more sponsorship.

Darryl said: "What REACH do is continuously ongoing, so whatever anyone can do would be of benefit."

The climb was part of a series of events that REACH have organised this summer to celebrate their 10th anniversary. The charity started off as a debt advice charity, but now runs other projects, including food banks.

The charity's projects co-ordinator Henry Wilson and operations manager Ann Merrigan took part in the Essex Castles cycle ride in July, and Henry also completed the Great East Swim and a half-marathon in August.

POLICE

14,000 knives binned in area

MORE than 14,000 knives have been handed into police across Suffolk in the past four years, the force have said.

As part of the Bin a Blade campaign, Suffolk police have set up permanent bins outside their station in Mildenhall to encourage people to deposit their knives.

Three other bins were left at stations around the county, while two mobile bins also collected the blades in the drive.

Since the campaign started in 2011, 14,043 knives have been deposited in the bins across the county.

The initial year-long amnesty which began in 2011 saw 6,125 knives anonymously left.

In 2012, another 2,205 blades were dropped, with that number rising to another 2,606 in 2013.

In 2014, 1,727 knives were surrendered. So far in 2015, the number stands at 1,380 knives.

The knives are then taken to a recycling centre in Great Blakenham where they are disposed of safely.

Suffolk Police's Temporary Chief Constable Gareth Wilson said: "We will continue to work with partners across Suffolk to encourage knife disposal using our designated bins; our campaign ensures that bladed items can be deposited anonymously, any day of the week and at any time."

"Our amnesty is continuing to make people think about the consequences of carrying a knife and realise that even one knife out on the streets of Suffolk, is one too many."

"It is important that residents and visitors feel safe and people are given the opportunity to dispose of unwanted knives in a way to ensure they are not used in criminality or anti-social behaviour."

Suffolk Police and Crime Commissioner Tim Passmore said emphasis on the danger of carrying a blade must continue.

He said: "We need to do all we can through education, peer pressure, policing and sentencing to make it absolutely clear that it's never acceptable for a person to carry a knife or weapon."

"I fully support the use of these bins and would encourage anyone who has a knife or any other weapon to dispose of them responsibly and immediately."

"Ultimately it is about making Suffolk as safe as possible."

£1.4k raised by singer for son's team

A MUSICIAN and football coach has raised £1,459.68 for his son's football team - by completing eight gigs in eight hours.

Ollie Carter was fundraising for the newly-formed Haverhill Rovers under 6s team, which he coaches and his son Harrison, 5, is a member of.

The "gigathon" took place on August 22 at eight different venues. It started at the Eight Bells in Saffron Walden and finished at the Saracen's Head in Dunmow.

Ollie raised sponsorship money for the mammoth feat, and what he raised was matched pound for pound by his employers, Barclays.

The money will go towards equipment for the team.

Our wood burner was installed yesterday by Terry and Carole and we would like to say how pleased we were with their work. They were extremely courteous, pleasant and efficient and took the time to explain everything very well.

Just to say how pleased I am with the gas fire that I had fitted yesterday and particularly how hard Dave and George worked for the whole time they were here, doing a great job. Please pass on my thanks and mustn't forget Cam for his part - thanks guys.

FUNDRAISING

Joni cycles 8 miles for year's charity challenge

PEDAL POWER: 9-year-old Joni on her sponsored cycle ride

A SCHOOLGIRL has taken on a charity cycle ride in the latest of a series of fundraising challenges.

Joni Andre, 9, is organising one event each month in 2015 to raise money for East Anglian Children's Hospices.

Previous events include charity sales and a pamper night, but Joni's August challenge was an 8-mile cycle ride.

She cycled a circuitous route from Haverhill to Sturmer with her parents on Friday, August 28.

Joni's dad Jason Andre said: "This is the eighth event, and she decided to do a sponsored bike ride. She's quite a keen cyclist. She decided on an eight-mile route and so she got everything sorted."

"She's really proud of herself."

Joni has been fundraising through a mixture of in-person and online fundraising, but for this event she focused on getting more donations on the internet. So far she has raised an impressive £900, nearing her target of £1,000 for the year.

Joni said: "It was a very hot day, but I managed to get through the ride and enjoy myself."

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

"I had lots of fun raising money and would like to thank all of those who have sponsored me for this and other events. If you can please visit my Justgiving page to sponsor more!"

Jason said: "I'm very proud. She's just done it all off her own bat."

Joni is now in the process of planning her fundraising events for the final four months of the year.

On September 20 she will be taking part in EACH's "Colour Dash" in Bury St Edmunds, a 5k run in which powdered paint is thrown at the runners. She is also planning a Halloween-themed event in October.

All the money she raises will go towards the hospice, which provides care for children with life-threatening illnesses and support for their families.

To follow Joni's progress or sponsor her visit her Justgiving page, www.justgiving.com/JoniEACH.

Come outside...

DANCED under the twinkling stars, on the rooftop of a multi-storey car park, Of Riders and Running Horses promises to be a stirring, mesmerizing feast of a performance.

Presented by Still House and choreographed by Cambridge's own Dan Canham, Of Riders and Running Horses draws the audience into a visceral ad-hoc ceremony, a place "to stamp our feet and shake our limbs; to dance in the face of an ending."

Created as a communal animation of city spaces, five dancers and a live band will come together to conjure up a new kind of old dance, an insistent rhythm, and a joyful step into what it means to move together.

■ Of Riders and Running Horses, Cambridge Leisure car park, Thursday, September 10 – Friday, September 11 at 8pm. Tickets £12 from junction.co.uk / (01223) 511511.

On Q...

Avenue Q, Cambridge Arts Theatre, until Saturday. Tickets £15-£35 from (01223) 503333/ cambridgeartstheatre.com

RECKON all musicals are wholesome cheese-fests? Think again; Avenue Q – created by Jeff Marx and Robert Lopez, the co-creator of 'Book of Mormon' and song writer for Disney's 'Frozen' – revels in its political incorrectness (there's a song called 'Everybody's A Little Racist' for goodness sake!).

Blending puppetry, musical theatre and comedy to tell the story of Princeton, a bright-eyed college graduate who's moved to New York with big dreams but a very tiny bank account, the coming of age parable will have everyone in the audience giggling.

We chatted to Avenue Q resident (and actual monster) Kate Monster.

Tell us about 'Avenue Q' Mrs Monster (or Following five years in the West End and sell-out runs all over the world, smash-hit musical Avenue Q has returned to Cambridge, bringing a whole lot of fun, mischief and mayhem with it.

can we call you Kate?!); why would you encourage audiences to come and see it?

Avenue Q is hilarious, naughty, high energy, warm-hearted and completely unique. It's a brilliant story about growing up, dreaming big, and finding your purpose in life. It's full of brilliant characters, puppet and human, and we guarantee you will leave the theatre with a smile on your face and a skip in your step!

What is your favourite moment?

My favourite moment is Trekkie Monster's song 'The Internet is for Porn'. I'm trying to convince everyone of the many wonderful merits of the world wide web, but apparently most people just like to log on and you-know-what! Trekkie Monster is a sweetheart really, but he has one dirty mind!

Do you have a favourite song to sing?

There's a 'Fine, Fine Line'. It's a very emotional song about how it's sometimes a very fine line between being in love and being friends with somebody.

Life on Avenue Q seems anything but dull! What's the best and worst thing about living there?

Avenue Q is a pretty downbeat street in a very crummy part of New York, but everyone who lives here makes it a very fun place. There's never a dull moment! There's Trekkie Monster who has an unhealthy addiction to certain – ahem – naughty websites, there's Christmas Eve the Japanese therapist, and Gary Coleman is our superintendant! So the best thing is the brilliant neighbours. The worst thing is the rat colony in the drains. They sing to each other at night, it's very disturbing.

Tell us something unexpected about yourself. . .

I'm actually related to Animal from the 'Muppets'! He's a third cousin or something. We've met a couple of times, and once I got to go on set at one of their films. Kermit is such a dish!

■ We have an NT Live, live broadcast of George Farquhar's final play, THE BEAUX' STRATAGEM, a fabulous, carnal comedy on Thursday 3 September at 7pm. The 'Beaux' are Mr Aimwell and Mr Archer, two charming, dissolute young men who have blown their fortunes in giddy London and flee to Lichfield; their 'Stratagem' to marry for money. Lodged at the local inn, posing as master and servant, they encounter a teeming variety of human obstacles. Sounds fun, come along.

■ RAYMOND FROGGATT 'Froggie', one of Britain's most prolific singer-songwriters, performs his unique mix of country music and rock and roll on Saturday 5 September at 7.30pm.

■ Be totally inspired when the Haverhill & District Flower Club present Dutch master florist Hans Haverkamp, who will give a flower demonstration, entitled FUNKY FLOWERS on Monday 7 September at 2pm.

■ Professor Slinn returns to the Arts Centre with VAN GOGH, THE TRUE STORY on Wednesday 9 September at 7.30pm. With wit and intelligence and meticulous research, Professor Slinn illuminates Van Gogh. Using a two-screen system to compare the actual painting sites with the paintings, he takes you on an unforgettable journey in the master's footsteps.

■ On the cinema front Ian McKellen stars in MR HOLMES (PG) on Tuesday 8 September at 1.30pm. It's 1947 and Sherlock is retired. His gradually ailing mind rallies to piece together a fiendish 30 year old mystery. Let's hope he's given up his old opium habit, the solving of the mystery could prove impossible! For the past four years Leif Ove Andsnes and the highly acclaimed Mahler Chamber Orchestra undertook to record the five Beethoven piano concerti in top venues around the world. CONCERTO – A BEETHOVEN JOURNEY (U) showing on Tuesday 8 September at 7.30pm captures that journey and gives Leif Ove's insight into one of the world's greatest composers. Finally in the 1960s, Beach Boys leader Brian Wilson struggles with emerging psychosis as he attempts to craft his avant-garde pop masterpiece. In the 1980s he is a broken, confused man under 24-hour watch of therapist Dr Eugene Landy. If it wasn't so sad I'd be getting 'good vibrations', spent many an hour listening to their music. Try and 'get along' for LOVE AND MERCY (12A) on Thursday 10 September at 7.30pm.

■ Events to look out for include Substance, a night of drum and bass and old school garage on Saturday 12 September from 8pm to 1.30pm, recorded as live Aida, the Handa Opera on Tuesday 15 September at 7pm and a live broadcast of The Rocky Horror Show Live on Thursday 17 September at 6.45pm.

It costs £7.50 less to fill up this year

THE cuts in the price of fuel this month have meant that filling up the average family car is now £7.50 cheaper than it was at the start of September last year.

Asda, Tesco, Sainsbury's and Morrisons have introduced a 2p reduction across their forecourts, with the result that the cost of fuel has been tipped to drop to £1 per litre after falling oil prices led to supermarkets slashing the cost of unleaded petrol by 2p a litre.

The move means that in the last month the retailer has cut the price of unleaded by 5p per litre and diesel by 9p.

Morrisons said its latest cuts mean unleaded is 15p a litre cheaper than 2014's August Bank Holiday.

Jamie Winter, services director for the supermarket, said: "The current weakness in world markets is working in the favour of motorists because plummeting oil prices are combining with a strong pound to help us reduce petrol prices."

Steve Gooding, director of the RAC Foundation, welcomed the news, adding that with oil trading

CUTS: The global supply of oil has outstripped supply this year at the same price as it was in January, more cuts could be expected.

He added: "The current retail margin on petrol is almost twice as much as the long-term average which is another indicator that pump prices could fall further."

"However it is worth remembering that the biggest influence on what motorists pay at the forecourts is not the oil price but taxation."

RAC spokesman Rod Dennis said: "The reason we've been slower to see unleaded price cuts is because the wholesale price of petrol – the price retailers buy the fuel for – has not fallen at the same rate diesel has. Diesel has been on a steady downward path since the start of May, driven by increased capacity from Asia, but the same cannot be said for petrol.

"If the conditions stay right, we could see some even lower prices in a few weeks as people return to work after the summer and the school run begins again. And if Brent Crude were to move to the 40 US dollar per barrel mark, the prospect of some enterprising retailers selling fuel for £1 per litre will make a return."

He added: "The heat has really been taken out of the cost of motoring this summer, with the big four supermarkets now selling unleaded and diesel for considerably less than in recent months."

"While we think there is potential for more movement on prices in the coming weeks, it is positive that all motorists are now benefiting from the plummeting price of oil."

Sleek all-new Kia Optima is due at Frankfurt Show

THE all-new Kia Optima will be unveiled at the Frankfurt International Motor Show on September 15.

The fourth-generation Optima, due on sale across Europe later this year, boasts a modern, new exterior, a bold interior design with more space for all occupants, an array of new technologies and a wide choice of efficient powertrains. The new model will offer greater refinement and improved ride and handling over the outgoing model, while retaining the sporty image that's helped Optima become one of Kia's best-selling models worldwide.

In profile, the glass area maintains the raked A-pillar and sweeping C-pillar that define the Optima's sports-sedan appearance, with the rear quarter light kicking up smartly as the shoulder line extends towards the raised boot lid.

The deeply-sculptured body panels of the doors curve fluently into slightly extended side sills, adding more visual weight around the skirt of the Optima.

The LED halo-style tail lamps which houses a sporty-looking air diffuser and oval exhaust.

The upgraded 1.7-litre CRDi diesel engine is expected to account for most European sales. Now producing 141ps (up from 136ps) and 340Nm torque (increased from 325Nm), the upgraded 1.7-litre diesel engine offers an improvement to engine response, low end torque, efficiency and NVH. The upgraded engine boasts CO2 emissions reduced by 14 per cent to 110g/km.

Royal Enfield Despatch rides into Haywards

MIKE SCIALOM

HAYWARDS has a number of limited-edition Royal Enfield Despatch motorcycles on show at its Girton garage on Huntingdon Road.

The Despatch commemorates the achievements of the despatch riders of the two world wars last century – wars which saw their role becoming of huge significance as supply lines and front lines became ever more complicated.

"Each of the 200 models built by Royal Enfield has its own individual number and each was finished slightly differently.

"One went out yesterday in battle green to a guy who used to own a military-style bike which he let go and regretted, this caught his eye and he's now getting on very well with it.

"We have Blue and Battle Green in stock, and Desert Storm Desert and Squadron Blue Despatch (the RAF model) are also available on request."

The Despatch is powered by a 499cc single-cylinder 27bhp four-stroke engine and boasts 100mpg. "It has an economical electric start and fuel injection." It's priced at £4,999, which includes "two-year warranty, first service FOC, full tank and number plates".

All 200 Despatches were sold by Royal Enfield within 26 minutes of being launched last month.

Haywards is open 9am-5.30pm weekdays and 9am-5pm on Saturdays. Find out more at haywards.co.uk or call the team on (01223)

Meanwhile the popular local dealership is looking forward to the new plate change which kicks off on Tuesday. "We're looking forward to the '65' new reg plate rush which is always a busy time for us," says service manager Nick Gumbrell.

Dacia Duster is now even more affordable

THE Dacia Duster is now even more 'shockingly affordable' to run with the introduction of a brand new EU6-compliant 1.6 16V 115 petrol engine which improves performance, reduces fuel consumption and CO2 emissions, significantly reduces running costs and improves the towing capacity of 4x2 models. It replaces the previous 1.6 16V 105 engine.

With its arrival, Dacia now offers a greater number of petrol-engined models in the Duster line-up. The new Ambiance versions are priced at £10,495 (4x2) and £12,495 (4x4). The new petrol engine is also fitted to Access versions, which are priced at £9,495 (4x2) and £11,495 (4x4).

Duster models powered by the dCi 110 turbodiesel engine now meet EU6 emissions standards: this lowers the VED band of every model.

There are also improvements to fuel economy and emissions of most Sanderos and the Logan MCV with the adoption of EU6 engines.

The 115hp 1.6-litre 16-valve engine is a brand new unit, not simply an EU6 version of the petrol engine previously fitted to the Duster. It develops 10hp more than its predecessor at 5,500rpm and has an extra 8Nm of torque – now 156Nm at 4,000rpm. This trims the 0-62mph acceleration time of 4x2 versions from 11.5 to 11.0 seconds, while for 4x4 models the reduction is 0.8 seconds to 12.0 seconds. Top speeds rise by 1mph and 5mph respectively.

By far the greatest gains are in fuel efficiency and running costs, however. For 4x4 versions, CO2 emissions tumble by 30g/km to 155g/km, while NEDC fuel consumption has been reduced by 6.2mpg and is now 41.5mpg. This is sufficient to slash the annual VED cost by £170 to £180.

Retailer's new store all set for opening

A NEW bike shop will throw open its doors to the public in Cambridge tomorrow.

Evans Cycles will be in business at Mitcham's Corner as of 9am and, as an added incentive, there will be goodie bags on offer for the first 150 customers through its doors.

The official public opening tomorrow follows a smaller special event this evening which will be attended by a number of Cambridge cycling clubs.

Anticipation has been building for the store's arrival ever since it was revealed Evans would be coming to the city.

The store, which will measure some 5,000 square feet, will feature an open plan workshop area where customers in the store will be able to watch mechanics at work on people's bikes.

Evans has also set up new stores this year in both Macclesfield and Norwich.

A spokesman for the store told the News previously that Cambridge a location made sense due to its cycling culture.

They said: "The biggest draw was Cambridge being a cycling town – it makes sense for us to have a presence there which we don't currently have.

"Historically we have been fairly London-centric but we are expanding so Cambridge is an obvious fit."

The store's arrival comes just days after stationery retailer Staples re-opened its revamped store next door.

The ribbon was cut at Staples last Saturday and the event saw a host of keen customers queuing up outside.

New first emerged of Evans Cycles' arrival after a sign was displayed at Mitcham's Corner in West Chesterton which suggested it would soon be opening on the site.

Other changes could now also be on the horizon as part of improvements to Milton Road

OPENING: Evans Cycles will open at the Mitcham's Corner junction, pictured stemming from the City Deal.

Cambridge City Council's master plan for the area includes the creation of a low-speed environment, removing or revising the existing gyratory, creating wider pavements and opportunity for open public spaces.

Evans Cycles, whose first shop F. W. Evans Cycles opened in south east London in 1921, also run 'Sportive' cycling events.

A Cambridge Sportive took place on in July, which started just down the road from the stunning Wimpole Estate in Arrington.

Rovers earn a deserved point

Football

HAVERHILL Rovers player-manager Michael Shinn was in philosophical mood after his team drew 2-2 at Swaffham in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division.

Rovers took the lead in the first 10 minutes when Marcus Hunt scored following a corner.

But Swaffham responded well and hit back with two quick goals to take a 2-1 lead into the interval.

Rovers came out for the second half in determined mood and they got back on terms when Ty Alleyne, who has passed up the offer of an extended trial at Barnet to remain at the New Croft, set up Ryan Weaver for the equaliser.

"Having got ourselves in front early on I thought we were going to get more from the game," said Shinn.

"But we were 2-1 down at half time so I've got to be happy with a point."

On Tuesday, second-half strikes from Nick Wilderspin and Alleyne earned Rovers a 2-1 win at home to Walsham-le-Willows.

In the First Division, Haverhill Borough eased to a 2-0 win at home to Debenham last Saturday.

First-half goals from Ryan Swallow and Lee Hurkett secured the victory.

Craig Pruden had already forced the Debenham keeper into a save when Swallow netted with a fine effort that he curled home from the edge of the penalty area.

Borough had chances to add a second, but it was not until just before half time when the advantage was doubled.

Tom Hardwick's cross found Hurkett in the penalty area, and he made no mistake with a header into the far corner.

Borough had further chances in the second half but the score remained the same as they saw out a comfortable victory.

Cricket

Mildenhall's Peter Worthington (85) did his best to keep his side in contention but the visitors could only muster 202 for 8 in reply.

Haverhill skipper Joe Woodley was delighted with his team's performance.

He said: "We batted first to give our batsmen full opportunity on a good wicket. Dellar and Powell both scored very different but equally important hundreds."

"Once we removed Mildenhall's Worthington, we closed the game down well with some tight bowling and exceptional catching."

Stokes sweeps rivals away to take victory

Golf

FIONA Stokes won Haverhill ladies' latest major competition after triumphing in the Lady Captain's Cup.

Stokes shot a round of nett 67 to win the tournament and trim her handicap by one shot to 13.

Linda Alexander took second on countback from Jackie Condon after both finished on 70.

However, Condon made up for that disappointment with victory in the ladies' midweek stableford.

The competition was shortened to nine holes due to heavy rain, with Condon taking the win on 20 points.

Ann Thompson was second on countback from Jenni Bradnam after both scored 18.

Eric Armstrong won the R Woolmer Greens competition for players over the age of 18 and with a maximum handicap of 18.

Armstrong carded nett 65 to take victory, while Paul Sharpe won the medal held on the same day with nett 61.

Sharpe won Division Three as well, with Conor O'Brien second on 66 and Terry Archer second on 69.

Armstrong won Division One ahead of Chris Vince, on 67, and Luke Williams, who took third on countback with 69.

Division Two honours went to Glen Hughes, who scored 67, with Ciaran Brennan second on 68 and Chris Briggs one further back in third.

Lewis Whiting continued his good year as he triumphed in the Haverhill Junior Boys' Open, which saw 16 players from across Suffolk taking part.

The competition was shortened to nine holes due to rain, but Whiting carded a one over par 37 to take the overall victory and win the longest drive competition.

He was three clear of Newton Green's Harvey Watts, with Whiting's clubmate Josh Hulyer third on countback after scoring 43. However, Hulyer beat Whiting and Tom Turner on countback in the handicap competition after all three scored 36.

Hulyer celebrated double success in the Daily Telegraph competition as well, winning both the medal and nett sections with a round of 84 and nett 70.

The competition was held at the same time as the Junior Captain's Cup, with Hulyer winning that too.

Hulyer, James Iron and Alfie West took second on 250 and Turner, Ewan Groves, who had the best individual score of 170, and Proctor were third on 170.

Hulyer and James Iron won the junior foursomes match too, with their nett 74 seeing them finish five shots clear of runners-up Turner and Proctor.

Meanwhile, Haverhill's run in the Stenson Cup came to an end in the semi-finals after they were beaten 10½-1½ by Felixstowe & Stowmarket.
